FOREWORD

In cooperation with the national effort to conserve paper it has been deemed advisable by the University authorities to forego printing a Law School Catalogue this year. In its place, we are editing this supplement, noting changes in Faculty, Calendar and Courses. Otherwise the Catalogue as of April, 1943 still obtains.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

The Boston College Law School is fully approved by the American Bar Association through its Section on Legal Education and Admission to the Bar. It is also a member of the Association of American Law Schools, which prescribes the following requirements for a member school:

1. It shall be a school not operated as a commercial enterprise, and the compensation of any officer or member of its teaching staff shall not depend on the number of students, nor on the fees received.

2. It shall require of all candidates for a degree, at the time of the commencement of their law study, the completion of one-half of the work acceptable for a Bachelor's degree granted on the basis of a four-year period of study by the state university or the principal colleges or universities in the state where the law school is located. A student's pre-legal work must have been passed with a scholastic average at least equal to the average required for graduation in institutions attended and such average shall be based upon all of the work undertaken by the student in his pre-law curriculum, exclusive of non-theory course in military science, hygiene, domestic arts, physical education, vocal or instrumental music or courses without intellectual content of substantial value.

3. It shall require its students to pursue a course of three years duration if they devote substantially all of their working time to their studies; and a course of four years duration, equivalent in the number of working hours, if they devote only part of their working time to their studies. (But confer "War Program", page 12.)

4. It shall not accept for credit toward the first degree in law, with or without examination, work taken in an unapproved law school.

5. It shall own and maintain an adequate law library which shall be so housed and administered as to be readily available for use by students and faculty; and it shall employ a qualified librarian whose principal activities are devoted to the development and maintenance of an effective library service.

6. It shall have on its faculty a sufficient number of full-time professors who devote substantially all of their interest to the work of the school.

7. It shall be a school which possesses reasonably adequate facilities and which is conducted in accordance with those standards and practices generally recognized by member schools as essential to the maintenance of a sound educational policy. Hence, students previously disqualified on account of poor scholarship in any other law school shall not be admitted, except in unusual cases where the dean or faculty of the admitting school has reason to believe that the failure was occasioned by factors other than lack of capacity.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Candidates for admission to the Boston College Law School must be at least eighteen years of age and must:

1. Possess a Bachelors Degree from an approved college or university, or
2. Have completed at least one-half the work acceptable for a Bachelors Degree in an approved college or university. Such work must have been performed with a scholastic average at least equal to the average required for a degree in the institution attended.

ADVANCED STANDING

Admission to upper classes will be permitted to an applicant who, being qualified for admission to the Law School under the general rule for regular students, has successfully completed the first or second year of study while in full attendance at a member law school of the Association of American Law Schools or at a law school approved by the American Bar Association. The amount of credit granted for such previous study will be determined entirely by the Committee on Admissions. At least two complete terms will be required in residence at the Boston College Law School immediately preceding the award of a degree.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

Applicants for admission to the Boston College Law School should communicate with the Secretary, Boston College Law School, 441 Stuart Street, Boston. Application forms and complete information regarding entrance requirements will then be furnished.

1. Application must be made in writing upon the official form.
2. Official transcripts of all collegiate and professional study must be sent directly to the Registrar of the Boston College Law School by the Registrar of the institution in which such work has been done.
3. The registration fee of five dollars must be paid before formal action will be taken on the application. This fee will be refunded if the application is denied.
4. A personal interview may be required by the Committee on Admissions before an application is accepted.
5. If the application is accepted, the student must register personally at the Registrar's office before the date indicated in this Bulletin. An added fee of five dollars will be charged for late registration.

THE WAR PROGRAM

In order to ameliorate the difficulties of war-time study of law, the Trustees of Boston College have approved, for the duration of the war, the recommendation of the Faculty of the Law School that an accelerated program be adopted.

In accordance with the accelerated program, more fully described in the 1943 catalogue, pages twenty-four and twenty-five, the scholastic year is divided into three terms, Fall, Winter and Spring.

New students will be accepted at the beginning of each term to begin, to continue or to complete the study of law.

ATTENDANCE

Regular attendance at all classes is required. Attendance is recorded and for excessive absences students may be refused the right to take examinations. No student while in attendance at this School shall be registered in any other school or college or in any other department of Boston College without the written consent of the Dean.

The Faculty reserves the right to change the program of instruction, the requirements for credits and degrees, and all regulations affecting the student body. Such changes may be made applicable to students already enrolled.

EXPENSES

Registration. A registration fee of $5 is charged to students entering the School for the first time. This fee must be paid before formal action is taken upon the application. It will be refunded if the application is denied.

Tuition. The tuition for regular students of the Morning Session is $120 per term; for regular students of the Evening Session, $90 per term. The tuition for auditors and unclassified students who do not take the regular course is $12 per credit hour.

Graduation. A graduation fee of $15 is charged to senior students one month before the end of the final term. This fee will be refunded if the student should fail to graduate.
